We come together in community, creating this fundraising initiative to collectively and urgently support the dear and vital resource of collective care and free media, Aatma.

Operating both on the ground and online, Aatma has been a unique force in our sphere, continuously offering for the past 15 months extensive and multi-dimensional contributions to labor resistance, knowledge production and community relief around the world. Through thoroughly documenting and exposing the crimes of the Zionist occupation in Palestine and Lebanon and of Empire against indigenous populations and our Earth, Aatma's deep devotion to producing/disseminating interconnective research in service of collective liberation has been greatly nourishing our resistance movements worldwide. We feel very grateful for their manifold messaging that has been deeply encouraging us to connect to our ancestors, imagine and build together new systems of care for a much-needed world revolution!

Seeing that Aatma has been relentlessly dedicating their time to work for the commons — all while being directly affected by the genocidal war and in a very precarious mode themselves — and is currently facing exorbitant costs for medical treatment and legal defense due to police brutality and state repression, we collectively decided to come together, across continents, to create this fundraising initiative to support them. Journalists, healthcare workers, educators, artists and poets are being targeted for reporting the truth, in Gaza, Lebanon and around the world, while mainstream media manufactures consent and cover for genocide. As Aatma says, “when the media is a complicit, genocidal liar, we become the media.” Become the media! It is more vital than ever that we join forces as a community to ensure initiatives, like Aatma, who courageously and tirelessly present a counterpoint of truth, have the resources and support they need to fight back and become sustainable.

As people who have directly benefitted from, have been deeply moved, and spiritually sustained by the practice of Aatma, we decided to collectively create an alternative fundraising model that can:

- ⊗ Cover Aatma's urgent legal and medical expenses;
- ⊗ Scale up their community relief efforts and contributions to funds within Palestine and Lebanon;
- ⊗ Sustain Aatma as an on-the-ground & online platform that brings together multiple frames of reference, practitioners and assemblies

We find it extremely important to preserve the platform's potential to continue sharing vital on-the-ground information and providing support for dissenting artists and activists. As Aatma has been deeply nourishing our labor resistance all for free, we would like to give back, and invite you to give back with us, through a solidarity economy.

The model of our campaign is simple. In collaboration with Aatma and in response to similar requests from other community members, we've decided to raise funds by selling a selection of prints from the hundreds of posters that Aatma has been writing and designing in support of collective liberation. If you'd like to contribute without purchasing a print, you are, of course, more than welcome! We also believe that offering museum-grade fine art prints at an affordable sliding scale is a great way to challenge the art economy.

Looking at present collective urgencies, a major part of the campaign will go into the community relief efforts that Aatma has been already supporting + providing relief for new needs as they emerge. According to the most recent community assessments, the most dire need in Gaza has been, so far, covering the high costs of food for community kitchens and buying water for families. We will better understand after the ceasefire if needs will change and readjust our focus accordingly. Since the ceasefire agreement in Lebanon that is being continuously violated in the South, the most pressing need has been covering the costs of pharmaceuticals and supplying families with their vital medications that cannot be provided in Lebanon due to the ongoing pharmaceutical crisis.

Currently, we are in the pre-order phase of the prints. Becoming an early supporter can greatly support us in making our campaign possible! To pre-order your prints - Send your donation via Paypal to - aatma@posteo.net - . Please include the amount of prints and the page number of the one(s) you wish to order, followed by shipment address (and a potential contact e-mail / details for order and shipment confirmation) + shipping costs according to the table below. Choose 'family and friends' option. Your order will then be confidentially processed. Please note that color modes slightly differ between digital screens and professional prints. The prints are shipped through hard cylindrical print tubes.

You can also support Aatma without ordering prints by donating freely any time to aatma@posteo.net through PayPal, writing 'donation' in the subject line and choosing the 'family and friends' option. Please email aatma@posteo.net with subjectline 'Fundraising collaborations' to discuss collabs or further fundraising ideas.
